

To: Moderna Employees

From: Ray Jordan, Chief Corporate Affairs Officer

Date: Tuesday, September 29, 2020

Subject: Promotion of Colleen Hussey to Director of Corporate Communications

Dear Moderna employees,

I am pleased to announce the promotion of Colleen Hussey to Director of Corporate Communications.

Colleen has been with us for a little over a year now and has executed flawless work. Most recently, she did a phenomenal job handling communications around the development and commercialization of mRNA-1273, the vaccine for COVID-19. We would not be reeling in the success we have without her outstanding leadership and skills.

In her new role, Colleen will be leading internal and external communications of Moderna. She will continue to develop communication strategies, manage the corporate communications team, play a lead role in advancing Moderna's image in the public health industry and advise executives on communication matters. Colleen will continue to carry out the needs of launching mRNA-1273 into the public with the help of her team:

- Corporate Communications Manager, Krista Luster
- Corporate Communications Specialist, Charlie Catalano
- Corporate Communications Specialist, Jessica Zweigbaum

Colleen joined us at Moderna in 2019 after leaving Abiomed as a Public Relations and Communications Manager. She graduated with a Bachelors of Arts in Political Science from The Johns Hopkins University in 2009 and recently went back to her alma mater to work toward her Masters of Business Administration at The Carey School of Business.

Colleen's promotion will be effective immediately. Let us all congratulate Colleen on an exceptional performance and wish her best of luck in her new role.

Thank you,

Ray Jordan